

From: XXXXX@washpost.com
To: havemanjames@aol.com
Sent: Fri, 22 Sep 2006 4:44 PM
Subject: Re: op ed

Unfortunately, we just don't have space to allow everyone to respond at the length they would like, or at the length of the original piece they're responding to--the math wouldn't work. I understand you have a lot to say, and I hope you'll take a crack at getting the most important stuff into a letter.

Best,
Fred Hiatt

From: havemanjames@aol.com
To: XXXXX@washpost.com
09/22/2006 04:38 PM
Subject: op ed

fred

i was stunned today when i was told the WP would not print my op ed as submitted yesterday...this dealt with falsehoods of the book by rajiv that you printed in sundays paper...how come i cannot have 900 words to refute the untruths as printed in your paper and what was in the book....it seems fair to allow my full submission to be published rather than me only being able to submit 150 words as requested today....i look forward to your response...you gave almost a full page to what he said about me....which was wrong...

jim